

Morality

Rationale: Adolescence is a time of questioning and critiquing personal, social, and cultural values. It is important for adolescents to develop and use an interiorized, principled moral value system and understand Christian conscience and the process of moral decision-making.

Goal: That students will acknowledge and respect their dignity as a human person and recognize this inherent goodness in all people.

That students will experience the ever-present love of God and live a moral life reflective of this love.

Objectives: To view Jesus as the fundamental norm of morality, the standard or model on whom people should pattern their lives.

To make students aware of their profound dignity that comes from being made in the image and likeness of God.

To learn the moral concepts and precepts that govern the lives of Christ's disciples.
